For 103 years, the mission of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) has been "to prepare young people to make ethical choices." Yet the BSA Board, yielding to pressure by corporate elites and homosexual activists, said it is “discussing potentially removing the national membership restriction regarding sexual orientation.” This is despite an in-depth study in 2012 that reiterated the wisdom of maintaining their policy on homosexual Scout leaders and members.

Jesus warned: Whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to sin, it would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck, and he were drowned in the depth of the sea. (Matthew 18:6 NKJV) From a purely spiritual perspective, allowing homosexual scout leaders would place the BSA on dangerous ground.

From a practical perspective, departing from their long-held policies would be devastating to an organization that has prided itself on the development of strong moral character in boys. It would also place these impressionable young men at risk to unwanted exposure to values and behaviors contrary to those taught by their parents and pastors... or even worse.

The BSA Board's move to reverse tradition and abandon their policy on homosexuality was stalled due to a public outcry from hundreds of thousands of Americans like you. Unwilling to make a principled stand, the BSA board decided in February to put the decision to a vote of approximately 1400 National Council members in late May. That gives us time to make a positive impact.

This is where you can help. Please join us in signing a petition (reverse), which we will deliver to each of the nearly 290 Scout Councils across the nation.

BSA Petition

I oppose the new proposal that the Boy Scouts of America should revoke the longstanding policy on homosexuality. An organization that teaches character, courage, and conviction shouldn't be exploited as a laboratory for sexualized political correctness. For decades, the BSA has kept the interest of the boys it serves as the focus of all its actions. No matter what, the Boy Scouts of America could be counted upon to do the right thing and not yield to any social or corporate pressure, and has thus far stood strong.

I urge the voting members of the BSA National Council to not jeopardize the safety and moral integrity of Scouting in order to advance a political agenda. The proposal to relegate the decision on homosexual leaders to local chartered organizations sends the wrong signal from the national body: that political correctness ultimately triumphs over character.

Parents should be able to entrust their sons to the organization with the confidence that they will not be exposed to inappropriate sexual topics such as homosexuality. The BSA should retain the current long-held and time-tested policy regarding homosexual leadership and membership.
